Parents Enabled Fair

The Color of Autism Foundation is hosting Parent's Enabled at the Crowne Plaza Perimeter NW 6345 Powers Ferry Road NW, Atlanta 30339 on Saturday April 17, 2010 from 10am to 2 pm. Parents Enabled is an empowerment fair for parents. This fair will connect parents to health and wellness professionals, business and career resources, products, services, and childcare providers.

During these very hard economic times parents are confronted with a host of issues that affect them both mentally and physically. Our exhibitors will offer parents the internal and external tools they need to survive.

The fair will be free to the general public and exhibitors will pay a fee. We encourage everyone to participate and to come out and support our community.

The fair is the perfect vehicle for vendors to showcase your goods and service as well as strengthen your brand awareness. In addition to offering parents resources for wellness, fitness, family services, financial planning, jobs and products. Exhibitor fees are $250 for a 6ft table. Lunch will be provided to exhibitors only. There will be media advertising for this event flyers, posters and internet ads. The Exhibitor fee deadline is March 20, 2010.

Becoming a participant is easy. Simply return the bottom portion of this flyer to us with payment enclosed or visit us at www.parentsenabled.com and click the registration button.

Cancellations are subject to penalties.

Cancellations after February 28, 2010 will receive a full refund. After which a 50% penalty will be imposed.
